

I just remembered a dream where I and others walked to a carnival the house was isolated with the other houses it was dark outside and... well.. .that's all I've got

Time Travel Conversation

I decided to write a conversation with me and myself from next day, I'm going to only write the things that I think I'm going to forget and something that I want to share

I got inspired by the video series called "Explaining the pandemic to my past self" to make this and I think also a website I found that sends messages to my future self called "futureme.org"

and all of this began from a hilarious video of Jacksepticeye talking to "his future self" in a 7 year old video of his

2:02 AM

I've seen 12 freaking ants in my room all at once, I don't want to hurt them but I'm starting to get angry because they keep moving close to my legs like idiots expecting not to be crushed underneath my legs making my movement hell of a lot more difficult

( I think one day there are going to be so many ants we'll be forced to find out where they made a house and poison them all so that no more of them will appear )

I kept hitting myself in the kidney because I found out that it's very painful to get hit there because I thought it would be a good way of me getting used to getting hurt so that it'll feel natural if I ever got in a fight

I did find that out and did it many days ago but I just want to mention it here also I bruised myself on the right side of my body by punching myself that way which wasn't my intended goal I just thought it would hurt not actually damage me I didn't intend to hurt myself during this my younger sister went out to stay in her friend's house for two days and my older sister is still in the other house so when my mom and dad leave to work I'm the only person at home and to be honest I didn't feel alone at all today when I was all alone mostly because Markiplier was there in my phone revisiting fnaf 2

Today was a day when me and my younger sister had a normal conversation devoid of her being rude even though when I said goodbye when she left she didn't respond at all... like a jerk

I feel tired again but that's totally normal to me at this point, feeling tired but not being able to sleep every night

I also have a bulge that looks like a bee sting, it's long it's right above my left clavicle and when I touch it hurts but I don't know what it is supposed to be

I'm still terrified that school will start in two days and I have no idea what terrible thing can happen next day but I'll most likely ask that first

I'm not going to write about most things that happened today because I think I'll remember them for the conversation

Like how I started drawing something that I'll simply call "Anger"

It was at first supposed to convey my anger towards how slow the internet was and how frustrating it was ( me and my younger sister talked about that actually ) and then I decided to add more to it than just drawing a guy who's very angry

I'm not done redrawing it fully yet but I can't wait to continue it

Now it's 2:12 I'll go collapse in my bed see you soon

Funny story, I didn't get to do anything today not because of me lacking motivation or me watching videos all day even though that was one of the reasons

no the main reason why I didn't get to do anything was because I slept in the day until it was 8 o'clock

I definitely didn't expect me to do nothing because of that even if the possibility was staring at me the entire time

Expect the unexpected

I did realize that doing this wouldn't exactly feel that engaging or fun but I'll try it anyway
I'll call my current self 2 and my past self 1 to make it much simpler

2: hello

1: WAI-

2: I know I remember there are many ants around here, I haven't forgotten

1: oh come on I was planning on saying this the first time we'd meet

2: yeah you probably thought of it so many times that you let me remember it

1: yeah I suppose I did... did you-

2: no actually I fell asleep in the day

1: what?

2: yep... it wasn't because of school it wasn't for buying clothes it was just me being an idiot, actually me and mom went outside to buy food and that was the most productive thing I did today

1: oh so you went outside? Did she do that to wake you up?

2: nope we did it at night, it wasn't as humid as in the other house so the walking was much more enjoyable

1: I honestly didn't expect any of that

2: yeah even when I woke up with the window open my room was colder but I think you already know that since it happened yesterday

1: oh right! Oh also am... you know what? Never mind

2: say it I actually don't know what you're going to ask this time

1: about the art?

2: dang it! I had a feeling you would but that "never mind" threw me off guard

1: so you didn't draw?

2: I fixed some parts and added an arm but that's literally it

1: and how much time did you have?

2: I didn't have motivation to do it okay? Don't make my hobby sound like a job that I need to do I wanted to enjoy doing it

1: oh... sorry I just... I was thinking about doing it next day so much that I forgot it was supposed to be enjoyable for me to actually do it better and for longer

2: yeah I did too... yesterday

1: at least now I can have it in mind, judging by how a paradox didn't begin the second you popped in here I'm guessing you made a new timeline

2: I actually wonder-

3: -what will happen in the future...

2: of this timeline

1: did we just say that at the same time?

2: this feels very weird because I definitely thought that our brain function would be different enough that we wouldn't use the exact same words

1: you're telling me... or yourself in this case I suppose

2: oh and also when you go to the store with mom next day and she tells you to take one more thing while the food is being scanned don't be afraid to take the toilet paper, I realized we were lacking in them and I had to take one from my stash

1: I honestly thought there was going to be something much more...

2: climactic?

1: no I mean like... you'd tell me something much more important to do in the future

2: actually I already did

1: did you?

2: yeah the second I arrived I told you that I accidentally slept in the day

1: RIGHT! How did I forget about that

2: I want to say sleep deprivation but

3: it's all normal at this point

1: yep

2:yep

3: ...

1: well this is very awkward

2: it sounded like you were judging yourself for being awkward

1: isn't that kind of okay though?

2: Judging is Judging, if you were judging your mirror you'd actually be judging yourself but since you're judging me and we're technically not the exact same it sounds more... offensive to me for the lack of a better term

1: yeah but criticism-

2: GOOD criticism makes us better I get it but saying that I'm awkward doesn't fix anything I'll still be awkward, heck I'm talking to myself aka the person who also has that problem and makes it sound like I'm the only one doing it

1: I really don't want to start an argument with myself just because I said the first thing that popped in my head so... I'm sorry

2: ... now I feel like a jerk... I don't think we should meet each other that much unless I'll know something significant will happen so I'll help you out with it

1: no no it's fine, the future of this world will be slightly different anyway so you should make another timeline where your true self is

2: but you are my true self

1: yeah but you already changed my outlook, I already know what'll happen in the future while your actual past self didn't meet your future self which means that I'm not as same as you

2: I... can't argue with that, I was actually thinking of what you were saying as you were saying it

1: that makes sense, I was pretty much mumbling all of my thoughts out

2: I guess this is a goodbye

1: no wait one more thing!

2: what is it

1: can we try to do the fusion dance? Just once?

2: I think you were overhyping it in your mind

1: please?

2: what's the point it'll be even more fun to do it with someone else, kind of like how fun it was for you to try it with our little sister

1: I know but both of us were thinking of this for a while, why let go of that idea immediately we can speak both at once sometimes so we might actually do it perfectly, do you just want to make a dramatic argument for some reason

2: no I'm not trying to make this sound like stupid forced drama, it's because I don't want you to see it as anticlimactic and meaningless when we finally do it, just stop hyping it up so much or you'll feel terrible after your disappointment

1: ... I don't know how that came to me, I thought we were going to have a meaningless argument but... I guess I should've been doing that for a while we both know to expect the worst outcome

2: you don't need to think of it as the worst thing just don't overhype it to the point of meaninglessness

1: okay that's fair

2: see you... later?

1: let's meet in a month or two so that we'll see by how much this conversation will change my future

2: oh that's a good idea actually thanks me

1: you're... welcome?

2: bye!

1: goodbye!... wait... how do I find out how to...
whelp he's gone

actually I think that's for the best because I might get an urge to go back in time by one second and stay with my clone to help him with a lot of tasks which will make us both depend on one another instead of us learning to do as much work as possible on our own in our own timelines hopefully HE will remember that... actually I'm going to be fairly certain that he'll forget about it

That was actually much more enjoyable than I first expected

it's not written to be a great story by any means but at first I just thought it was going to be completely meaningless... which it mostly is but not to THAT degree
